A Message for The Tally Stick for 1962-63

The Calgary Campus of the University of Alberta is growing up. There are increasing evidences of maturity in the student newspaper, in the deliberations of the Students' Council, and in the activities of the students generally. This is partly due to the increasing proportion of students in their third and fourth year and in Graduate Studies, but partly to a more serious attitude on the part of students in their first and second year.

U.A.C. is also growing in numbers. This reflects not only the increase in students proceeding from high school to University, but a growing confidence that the staff and physical facilities, the library and the laboratories, on the Calgary Campus, can guarantee higher education in the best sense.

You are growing in the number and competence of staff and in the development of an important group of administrative officers. U.A.C. now has its own Dean of Arts and Science, its own Dean of Education, its own Registrar and Business Officer. These developments will permit and indeed foster a growing independence in curriculum and administration to meet the special needs of your campus.

Last February the Legislature approved an amendment to the University Act whereby the Principal, the Provost, and the President of the Students' Union in Calgary, become ex officio members of the University Senate in their own right.

With such developments you can feel a growing pride in your university and look to a bright future for it in the full expectation that this hope will be realized.

MESSAGE FOR THE YEARBOOK 1962 - 63

As we come to the end of our third year on this campus, I can write those words that you and I and our entire faculty have waited three long years to read: "Congratulations to the Class of '63!" The graduation of those many students who joined us as freshmen in 1960 and who have completed all their work with us on the new campus does, indeed, signify our achieving full university status. Now we can look back as well as forward. Now we have a tradition: the accomplishments, the seriousness, the courage -- as well as the fun -- of the Class of '63.

As alumni and alumnae of the University of Alberta, Calgary, may your careers prosper and may you hold your University in respect and affection throughout the coming years. And to those who will, in due time, be members of our future classes, may I say how happy I am that you have chosen this campus as your own Alma Mater. It will be your duty to maintain and enhance the high tradition established by those who now are leaving us.

Malcolm G. Taylor
Principal

VALEDICTORY

CLASS VALEDICTORIAN MAUREEN MULHOLLAND

What is a university? An institution of higher learning? A community of scholars? A cluster of buildings requiring specific academic and financial standards for entrance? This, you may say, is the denotation of a university, the university of the uninitiated Freshman, or of the outsider. But what is a university to the members of the Graduating Class of 1963? What connotation does the word create in the mind of each individual that crosses the platform at Convocation?

To the UAC graduate, there comes the concrete image of three and one half scattered buildings, supplemented by the glorious vision of the beautiful campus which exists in the hopes and ideals of every UAC student. Our thoughts however extend far beyond the limits of the individual campus to encompass the many structures that compose the universities we know, and we realize how insignificant is the physical entity in our connotation of the word university.

The meaning of university dwells then in a conglomeration of emotional and intellectual experiences. As we glance in retrospect at the past three or four years in an attempt to grasp their significance, we experience once again the many emotions that have brought us to the point of graduation. Intellectually, we have been stimulated by the magnitude of knowledge existing in the world of the twentieth century. We have been inspired by the possibility of research and discovery; we have been worried by the pessimistic forecasts about the future of the human species. Imbued with Descartes' method of systematic doubt, we have begun to acquire the characteristic questioning mind. We have amassed particular facts relating to our own field of study, but more important, we have become familiar with the many fields that provide opportunity for study.

Emotionally, these years have revealed to each individual something of his own inner character. The lengthy discussions over coffee have led to an examination of our deepest feelings, and an illumination of each individual's so-called "philosophy of life" which is often buried in the mire of the muddled rut. The freedom of university life has provided us with the opportunity of testing our self-discipline, and it is only as we have attempted to apply our rapid reading skills to textbooks during the last weeks of April that we have realized how miserably our self-discipline has failed us.

What has been the purpose of these years of study and activity? Monsieur Pierre Donsereou, a charming French scholar, once said that university is not a preparation for life, but rather a part of life. Monsieur Donsereou's definition describes the true essence of university. The university we know bears little resemblance to the serene ivory tower of the medieval university. Our university careers have been alive with politics, religion and culture. We as students have shown an active interest and concern for social and political conditions on the campus and throughout the world.

Whether we intend to pursue further studies in the academic field, or to enter the life of a particular community, we must never lose the enthusiastic, inquiring, and discerning spirit that we have developed in our undergraduate years. We cannot place our university education on the shelf with our yearbooks. Society has worked long hours and has spent much money in order to preserve our freedom and our right to attend university. Society recognizes the necessity of providing higher education for its citizens, but society expects returns for its labor.

We owe far more than the specific training we may apply to our areas of employment. University has not given us the right to wave a parchment degree before the community and demand employment. Our degree simply represents some qualifications that may assist us in competing for the available employment.

A university degree represents far more than material opportunity. In accepting a university degree, we accept a great responsibility: the responsibility of educated citizens, and of citizens from whom much is expected. University has given us some insight into problems confronting society, and as graduates, we must attempt to help solve these problems. University has shown us the values of democratic government; it is our duty to preserve these values. The responsibility to maintain freedom and tolerance lies with each member of this graduating class. We are young and in a position to apply whatever knowledge and experience we have obtained towards influencing and improving society. If we do not take this opportunity, we may awake in thirty years to find ourselves living in a society in whose formation we took no part.

As we bid farewell to our fellow graduates, we realize that this is not "à Dieu" but "Aufwiedersehen", and when we meet again, may each of us be able to say, "I have accepted my responsibility and I am fulfilling my role as a university graduate."

CLASS HISTORY

CLASS HISTORIAN JACK MARSHALL

Our class has a unique place in the history of this University, for we are the first class to complete our degrees at the new campus of the University of Alberta, Calgary.

The history of the Class of '63 really began on November 1, 1958. On that day a sod turning ceremony was held in north-west Calgary, and work commenced on the new campus. In September 1960, the doors of UAC opened and The Gauntlet blared "Welcome Frosh!" to over 700 freshmen. A new university of 1,000 students was born. The official birth date was October 28, a month after the opening of the academic session, when Dr. M. G. Taylor was installed as Principal and the University was officially opened.

A calm followed the storm of Frosh Week activities as faculty and students got down to the business of learning. We freshmen put aside our frosh beanies and buttons and opened our books. Never before had Calgary students been offered so much. Twenty new professors increased the faculty to seventy, and one hundred sixty-two courses were offered.

Student activities expanded greatly to accommodate the new students. The Gauntlet established a reputation for itself under its "timid, shy, boy-editor", with occasional direction from a concerned administration. An ever increasing number of campus clubs catered to the interests and talents of students and through them the freshmen were introduced to campus life. Many memorable events took place in that first year at UAC. For months the wind blew bringing dust that left the campus, faculty and students coated. Exams came, and bridge, hearts and ping pong took their toll. Bed pushing was the food that year and UAC "pushers" took to the highways. But most of the time was spent gathering knowledge. The desire to learn was encouraged by the professors and enflamed by the approach of final exams. Thanks to a blizzard exams had to be postponed for a day, but we wrote them, and left for summer jobs. The first year was over.

The 1961-62 academic year opened and we returned to further our studies. This time we could really enjoy Frosh Week, someone else was on the receiving end. Eight hundred freshmen boosted our student population to 1,600. Thirty-two new professors and additional courses were added. The Class of '63 reduced in number but as eager as ever, began more work. We also took over a number of positions in the many campus clubs. There was something going on every day as political, religious, and special interest clubs began another year's activities. A successful and impressive Political Seminar gave politics the boost it needed to assume its important role on campus. It was followed late in the year by UAC's first Model Parliament, under Liberal Prime Minister

Hugh Bessell. Other highlights of the year included a series of Conferences on Higher Education, the opening of the new gymnasium, the approval of red and gold as our school colours, and the Western Canadian Student Teachers Convention, hosted by UAC. It wasn't all work and no play by any means. The first issue of the Goblet was published, Yacowar was crowned King of UAC, Color Night was a great success, UAC Radio began closed circuit broadcasting, and National Bermuda Shorts Day was more revealing than ever.

Academically, the Class of '63 found quite a change from the previous year. Instruction was less impersonal, classes were smaller, and we began to specialize and work towards specific goals. We had begun to realize just how little we knew and how enormously distant the boundaries of knowledge are. But we were getting somewhere and when the time came to file into the Green Gym for final exams we knew we had made some progress.

We returned four months later for the 1962-63 academic year to find UAC bursting at the seams. An acute shortage of space resulted in overcrowding in the library, cafeteria, and offices, and in a great restriction of lounge space. Student population approached 1,800. Council's austerity program was ushered in with the plaintive cry, "This is the toughest year we've ever had financially". None the less campus activities soon got into high gear. Members of our class found themselves guiding many campus organizations in addition to carrying a heavy academic load. Sports assumed a more important role on campus thanks to the new gym, and the UAC Dinosaurs almost won the WCIAA Basketball championship.

During the year it became evident that UAC was changing a great deal. For the first time there were considerably more upper classmen than freshmen. The number of graduate students increased considerably and the faculty increased to one hundred twenty. Construction of an impressive new library was begun. UAC was becoming a mature university, and as it matured, so too did the senior students. As graduation approached the class made plans to get jobs and make their own way in the world, or to further their education in other universities.

Now we are graduating. Three wonderfully profitable and stimulating years have passed. We have had the unique advantage of being an important part in the building of a great university. As we leave in pursuit of our chosen professions, we hope that we will reflect credit on the University of Alberta, Calgary, and by so doing pay for a part of what it has given us.

IAMBIGUOUS

On the campus in this city
 On the brink of yawning chasm
 On the brink of crashing boredom
 Sit the poets of this city
 Courting their respective muses
 But it isn't worth the bother
 For their muses are so sterile
 That no rhyme can ever come forth
 So they sit and write in blank verse
 Verse as blank as sightless mirror
 Verse as blank as windless water
 Verse as blank as mindless poets
 Which is rightly what they are.

A TALE OF A WEAK THREAD

. . . and how it lived happily ever after.

SOCIETY OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

Seated: (l-r) V. Faunt (Sec.); A. Arthur (Pres.); M. Fleming (NFCUS Rep.). Standing: (l-r) L. Thorssen (Soc. Convenor); T. Smith (Treas.); R. Ryll (Vice-Pres.); M. Wilson (Queen Week Co-ordinator).

The Society of Arts and Science was quite active during the year. During Frosh Week, S.A.S. and E.U.S. co-sponsored a Punch Party. On November 9, the society held its annual Remembrance Day Service with Father Bastigal giving the address. The faculty's biggest undertaking of the year was, of course, The Blue Mist Ball and the Queen Week which preceded it. Miss Agneta Svalander, the Engineer's candidate was chosen Miss

U.A.C. after an extensive campaign consisting of: skits, posters, displays, T.V. interviews, a coffee party, and formal and informal judgments.

This year the Arts and Science scholarship of $150 was awarded to Miss Merry Wilson.

To round out the term, the society sponsored chartered buses to the basketball games in Edmonton.

COMMERCE UNDERGRADUATE SOCIETY

Seated: B. Ekstron (Treas.); E. Nielsen (Pres.); M. Lowson (Sec.). Standing: C. Dunford (Class Rep.); D. Morice (PRO); W. Brooker (VP); R. Smart (NFCUS Rep.); B. Hedderick (1st Year Rep.).

C.U.S. social activities commenced at Happy Valley with a wiener roast which proved to be a rousing success. Commerce dances were held on November 24, January 19, and March 9, the first of these being a Monte Carlo Dance complete with Black Jock dealers and cigarette girls. A banquet was scheduled to take place near the end of the term.

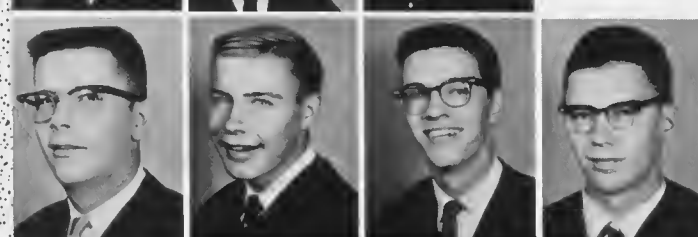

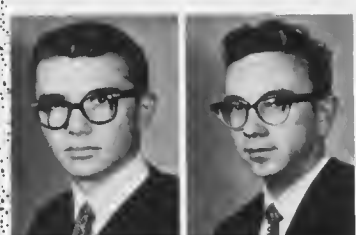

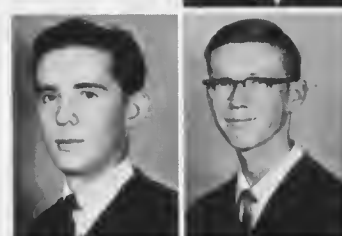

The Commerce Queen candidate for the Blue Mist Ball was Colleen Dagnoll and enthusiastic society members backed her with a colypso theme.

The Third Annual Business Seminar was held in Red Deer on December 15, 1962.

Other activities included the sale of Commerce sweaters, participation in WUS Treasure Van, working for the Blood Donor Clinic, and monthly general assemblies at which prominent business men were invited to speak.

The executive wishes to thank all those members who contributed to the society effort during the year.

EDUCATION UNDERGRADUATE SOCIETY

The E.U.S. is a society for all education students on campus and attempts to further the aims of the A.T.A. as well as promote a spirit of goodwill and co-operation amongst the members.

E.U.S. activities during the year included: general meetings complete with speakers and films, The Patched Panic, a Dagpatch style dance; sponsorship of a formal costume affair known as the Mardi Gras Ball; and an education banquet and dance at which awards were made to those students making an outstanding academic, athletic, or cultural contribution to the Education faculty.

Three delegates from the faculty were selected to represent the university at the Western Canada Student Teachers' Conference which was held at U.B.C.

ENGINEERING STUDENTS SOCIETY

The E.S.S. put in a very active year, commencing on Frosh Week when all offenders were tried and several of them did time in the stocks. The annual stag was held off campus and all the frosh were welcomed by the seniors.

E.S.S. dances were held early in the fall and on December 15. These were supplemented by closed dances with the Nurses at the nurses' residence.

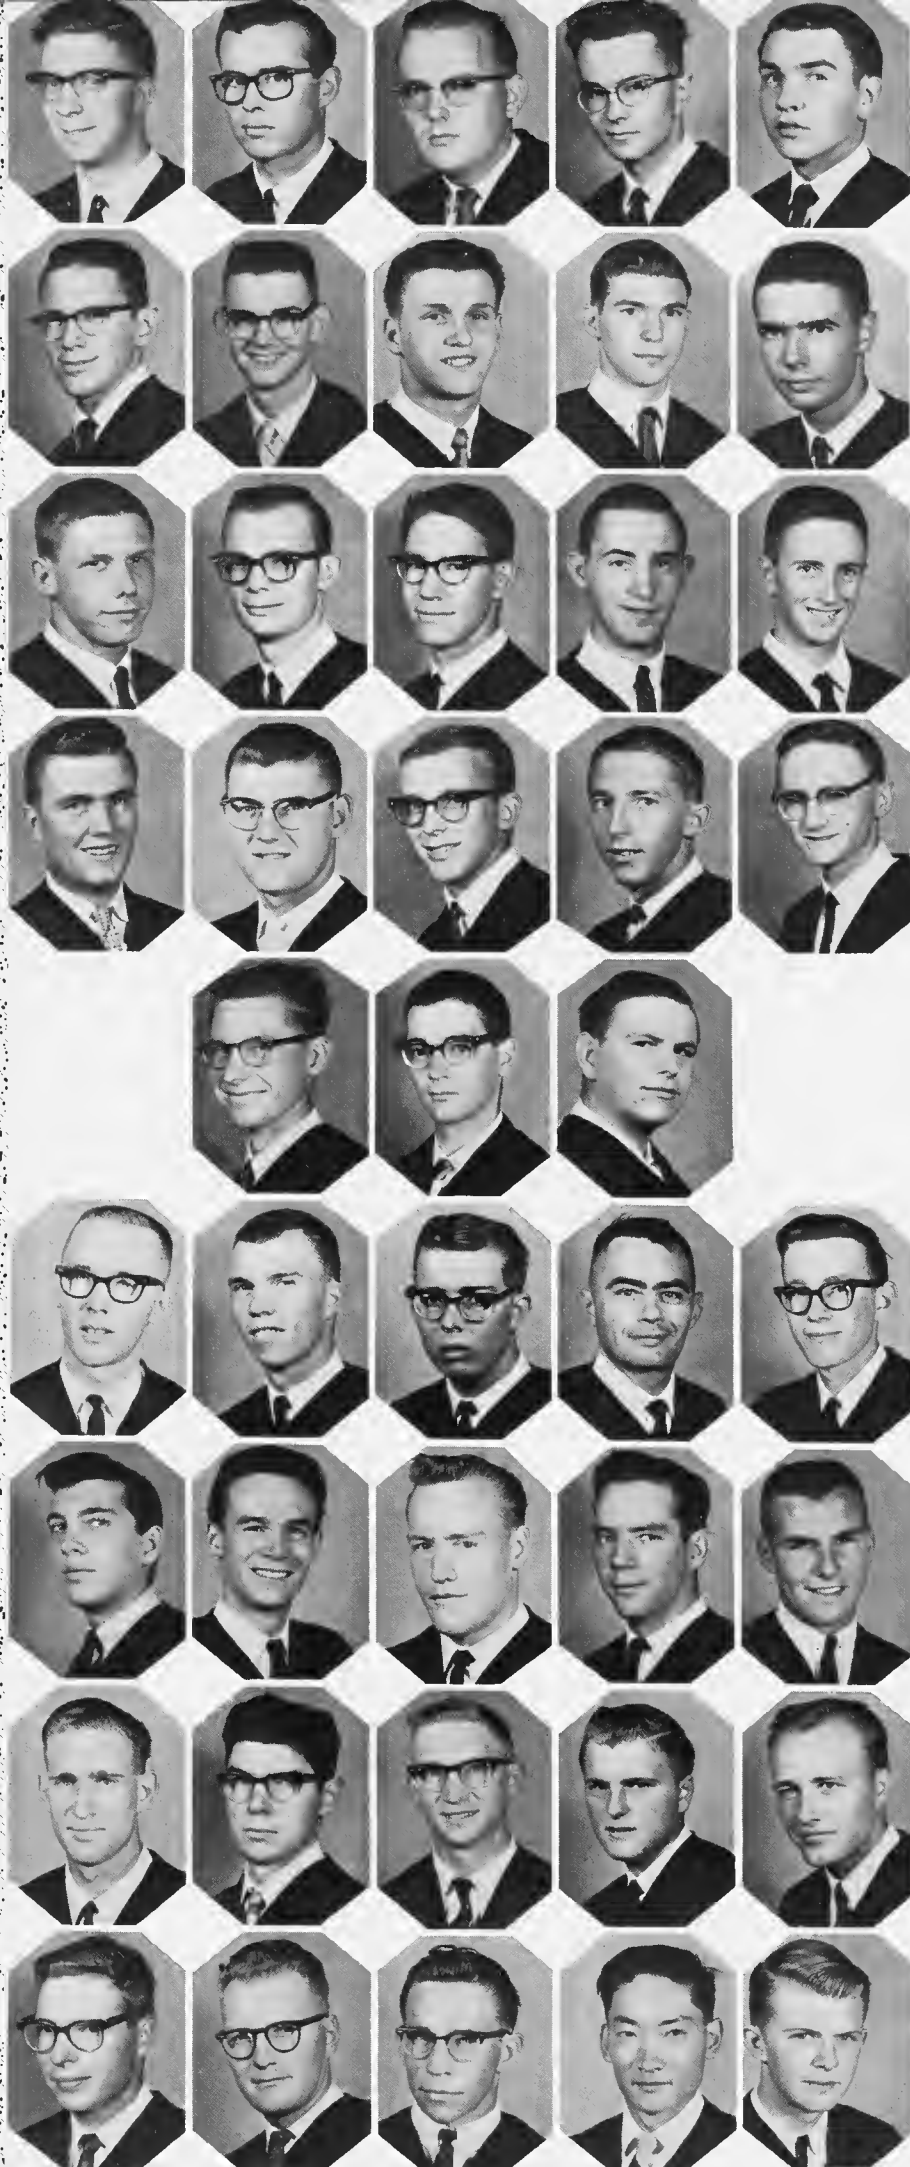

The queen campaign proved to be very successful for the engineers this year with their "Viking" queen, Agneta

Svalander, being crowned Miss U.A.C.

The beard growing contest, which was sponsored early in the new year, culminated at the Bushman's Ball where prizes were given for the best beard, the most original beard, and Big Chief Peach Fuzz.

Other activities included a slide rule contest, establishment of the E.S.S. scholarship, sponsorship of Winter Week, competition for the Blood Cup, an awards banquet, and publication of the controversial Goblet.

GRADUATE STUDIES

GRADUATE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

EXECUTIVE: (L-R) Bob Jenkins (Physics), Treasurer; Mrs. Gloria Gutman (Psychology), Secretary; Ron Wills (Chemistry), President; George Baird (Physics), Vice-President.

Membership in the Graduate Students' Association is open to all students registered with the Faculty of Graduate Studies. This, our first year in operation, saw a membership comprised of some thirty-three students.

The purpose of the G.S.A. is to promote the social, cultural and intellectual interests of graduate students. Towards this purpose, a very successful social evening was held in November and the G.S.A. sponsored a talk by Dr. Allan McGugan, Geology Dept. UAC, in December. Perhaps our major achievement as an organization, however, was to obtain and furnish—complete with abstract mural—a Graduate Study Lounge. G.S.A. members also participated in such intramural athletics as rugger, flag-football, badminton and the cross country.

STUDENTS'

Dear Fellow Students, 1962-'63;

A scan through these pages will review the events that made this past year at UAC what it was; probably one of the best this university has ever had.

The Students' Union this year had two major problems; a lack of money and a lack of space. Both problems will likely not bother next year's Union, with the probable increase in enrollment fattening the treasury and with the new library building giving the students all sorts of room in which to cavort.

This past year's operations were exceedingly successful in the light of these problems. The Union and its component organizations planned a rich and varied program to fully use what facilities we had on campus, and we availed ourselves of facilities off campus to pull up the slack. For example, our Model Parliament moved to a city auditorium, and UAC hosted the N.F.C.U.S. regional executive meeting at the Banff School of Fine Arts. Magnificent co-operation on the part of all students and organizations, coupled with the eagle-eyed scrutiny of our treasurer and our new business manager-director, Frank Stoddart, kept our expenses in tow, so that it seems at this writing that what began as a strictly-controlled deficit budget might realize a slight profit after all. Certainly all Council is grateful to everyone who helped alleviate the strain caused by money and space shortages this year.

Aside from the tightening in our financial operations, Council's year was largely distinguished by a number of 'beginnings'. We planned our first university week, for example, and we sponsored our first reading plan, what in future years might give UAC the best, most cordial professor-student relationship of any university in Canada. For the first time as well, Council spoke out on the students' behalf on several off-campus issues, from taxation to transit fares. In addition, the N.F.C.U.S. Chairman, Irving Rootman, brought UAC's participation in N.F.C.U.S. to an all-time high.

Of course, Council made its annual sweep through the by-laws. But most of the time was spent on the daily duties which, although not as glamorous as the other work, is even more important.

Our Students' Union Building Committee made considerable progress, under the chairmanship of John Harrop, towards our SUB, which should be open for use by 1967. The committee planned the contents of the building in greater detail than was done last year, explored various possible means of financing it, and in general set the stage for next year's committee to continue the planning.

I think this year's Council enjoyed a successful year. Certainly I could speak for all Council in thanking you for making 1962-'63 such a wonderful, eventful and successful year; to thank you for allowing us the honor and pleasure of serving as your executive this year. Of course, to you all go our very best wishes on your examinations, and for your future.

Sincerely,

PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE

Colleen Dagnall
P. R. Secretary

The Public Relations Office is in charge of all off-campus publicity of the Students' Union and all campus organizations.

This year the Public Relations Committee has been increased from three to eight members: the Editor-in-Chief of the Gauntlet, the President and Secretary of UAC Radio Society, the Cultural Coordinator of Students' Council, an Adelphi Representative, a Freshman representative, the Secretary to the Public Relations Officer and the Public Relations Officer.

The Public Relations Office compiled and mailed numerous press releases on campus activities and developments during the year. These were distributed to local press, radio, and television outlets. Photographic coverage in the local press and television film was greatly increased. Frosh Week, Queen Week, Winter Week, Model Parliament, and various NFCUS seminars received particular attention.

To increase the interest of high school students in university activities the various high school libraries receive several copies of each Gauntlet issue. Also, in this regard, Scott Saville visited each high school talking with the Principal, Students' Union President, and presented them with a copy of the Tallystick.

The annual High School Visitation Program was conducted by the Public Relations Committee, and arranged by Beau Wallace and Midge Bodell.

Public relations activities were greatly increased this year, and in view of the fact that we are a young institution, this field will be of increasing importance in the next few years.

UAC Radio continued to expand in 1962-63 when the club acquired a new console, tape deck and a remote control board which made it possible for UACR to broadcast from anywhere on campus. Closed circuit operations were expanded to include the mixed lounge and offices located in the gym.

New features on UACR were "Reviews and Previews,,

"Varsity Sports Parade" and "Student Poll". The club continued its services to campus organizations, providing emcees and recording major events.

UACR was host to the Western Association of University Broadcasters convention which was held in February and also published a monthly newsletter for WAUB.

GAILLARDIA

D. Velker; S. McCready (editor); M. McCann; Prof. R. H. Tener; Prof. D. Ray.
Missing: Prof. J. Alexander; B. Pflanz.

Contributions to Gaillardia, UAC's literary magazine were selected for publication under the supervision of editor-in-chief Stuart McCready, assisted by Ben Pflanz, Mike McCann and Darlene Velker. Dr. Jean Alexander, Dr. D. E. Ray, and Dr. R. H. Tener of UAC's English Dep't. served as advisors. The introduction to the second annual issue of Gaillardia was written by Dr. M. H. Scargill, Dean of Arts and Science. Carol Cooper, a fourth year art student, created the Gaillardia cover design. The forty page issue sold at 25 cents a copy during University Week, February.

DEBATING SOCIETY

G. Dalton (Sec.); G. Aikenhead (V.P.); R. Haley (Pres.); R. Hiltermann (Publicity Secretary); J. Lazarowich (Treas.)

The Debating Society made great progress this year, with regard to both speakers and attendance.

Debates took place with Montana State University, the Young Liberal Association, St. Mary's Boys' School, the British Debating team of David Prior-Palmer, and Alan Andrews, and with various other universities in Western Canada.

The team chosen to debate for the McGoun Cup consisted of Bob Haley, John Emberson, Derek Swinson, Bob Fellows and Alan Zysblat. Great interest was shown in the Tournament for the Dr. Taylor Trophy, and in the Freshman Oratorical Contest.

In the future it is hoped that the Society will acquire greater respect from the faculty and the public at large so that eventually, being asked to speak at the UAC Debating Society will be considered an honour.

N.F.C.U.S. enjoyed a rather successful year in 1962-63, a year filled with seminars, speakers, films, meetings, and various other programs. Seminar topics included the following: "Communism and Democracy"; "Freedom and the Individual"; "The Separatist Movement in Canada"; "Mental Illness and the Student"; and "Canadian Art".

Three speakers were co-sponsored with S.C.M. to discuss: "Is the University an Extension of High School?"; "University Education—Just a Meal Ticket?" "The University in Our Society"; and a fourth speaker, Chantuaqua Rabbi, was invited to speak during Brotherhood Week.

Films of a cultural or educational nature, as well as those connected with the English courses, were brought in.

The High School Program consisted of debates and trips to various schools.

N.F.C.U.S. sponsored frequent meetings to discuss matters of concern to the student. These were supplemented with periodic regular meetings which were open to the university public.

The W.U.S. campus committee was co-chaired by Allen Zysblat and Tom Robertson with a faculty committee consisting of Dr. Self, Dr. Hartland-Rowe and Dr. Terentiuk.

Activities this year were highlighted by a successful Treasure Van, a report on the 1962 International Seminare in Poland by UAC delegate Allen Zysblat; a visit by International Committee member, Mikoto Fujita of Japan; the selection of Miss Irene Kyle as the UAC delegate to the 1963 International Seminare and a Share Fund Campaign.

As well as unifying the student body the club provides a link between students and alumni teaching in the field.

Two main social events highlighted the year: a dance in the fall and the annual banquet and dance, for members and alumni, in the spring.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

POSTER-MAN '62-'63

George "Jake" Jacobs

The Political Science Club under president Glaria Dalton began its second year of operation on the UAC campus planning several seminars; one in conjunction with N.F.C.U.S. on "Separatism" and another on Canadian-American Relations.

During the year regular business meetings were held, as well as discussions on current political topics. Guest speakers were brought in to give talks on politics, government, parliamentary procedure, et cetera.

Speakers included Rodger LaBaeuf, Professor W. F. Dawson, and Grant MacEwan.

A standing committee of the club, the Inter-party Council, planned and organized this year's very successful model parliament, held February 14, 15, and 16. Under the chairmanship of Melvin Paale, the representatives of the five political parties on campus, The Canada First Party, The Liberal Party, The Progressive Conservative Party, The New Democratic Party and The Social Credit Party, met every week until model parliament. The final result was: a very well-run affair.

Politics on campus received an extra boost of life this year with the formation in November of a new political party, The Canada First Party, bringing to five the number of political parties now active on campus.

The club would like to thank Dr. F. C. Engelmann, professor of Political Science and the club advisor, for the aid he gave to the club during the year.

CANADA FIRST PARTY

The Canada First Party was founded in late November because of students' dissatisfaction with the four old-line parties on campus.

The lack of lively issues on campus motivated the Canada First Party to take a fresh outlook on politics.

This new outlook brought the Canada First Party to the fore in campus politics for after only three months of being in existence, they polled the second highest number of votes in the Model Parliament elections. Leading the opposition, against the Liberals were the Canada Firsters under party leader Scott Saville.

Allan Connery, (Vice-Pres.); Alan Arthur (Pres.); Gloria Dalton (Sec.); Scott Saville (Model Parliament Party Leader). Missing: Elaine Liebelt (Policy Chairman).

The group along with the odd party supporters campaigned vigorously for the Model Parliament, bringing in such platforms as legalized gambling, making P.E.I. the Monaco of Canada; legalized prostitution; nuclear weapons for Canada; cut in income taxes as well as in corporation taxes.

UAC NEW DEMOCRATS

Front: B. Steemson (Sec.); B. Coulter (Public Relations). Back: F. Pysh (Inter-party Rep.); P. Piffer (Inter-party Rep.); Hans Brown (Pres.); I. Freeman (Treas.)

Although the Model Parliament election did not indicate it, the UAC New Democrats had their most successful year in 1962-63. Meetings were held every two weeks, with such speakers as Mr. Edward Madell, Calgary U.S. Consul; and Mr. Grant Nobley, provincial N.D.P. Secretary.

Although the New Democrats ran quite a forceful campaign, they only received three seats in the Model Parliament. On many of the bills and resolutions presented in the parliament, they found themselves the sole defenders of the alternative side to crucial issues—particularly nuclear weapons, public power, and union contributions to political parties.

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE STUDENTS' FEDERATION

This year the Progressive Conservative Club was under the leadership of President, Laurie Portigal; Vice-President, Dave Surplis; and Secretary, Carolyn Bond.

Among the activities were: the presentation of guest speakers; participation in the Federal Election Campaign; work on the Alberta Leadership Convention; the sending of delegates to the annual meeting of the P.C. Party and the P.C.S.F. convention; the publishing of the Conservative Courier; and participation in Model Parliament.

D. Surplis (Vice-Pres.); L. Portigal (Pres.); C. Bond (Sec.-Treas.).

SOCIAL CREDIT CLUB

The Social Credit Club had a very successful year, as shown by the increased membership and improved program.

The primary objectives of the club are; to educate members of the club as to the purpose and beliefs of the party through discussion and lectures; to play an important part in promoting political interest on campus through the publication of a club paper and active participation in model parliament; and to provide the club members with a direct contact with the people representing them on various legislatures.

Every member has and is continuing to play an important part in the club's activities.

D. Paproski (Pres.); M. Poole (Vice-Pres.); E. Burdick (Sec.-Treas.); D. Baptist (Coordinator of Activities).

PICKWICKIAN SOCIETY

The purpose of the Pickwickian Society or Philosophy Club is the promotion of thought through a program of philosophic discussions.

Among the topics discussed during the year were: the existence of God; the use of language in arguments and understanding; knowledge through sensual experience or intuition; human freedom; morals; and various theories of existence.

Front Row: T. Jenkyns (Sec.); G. Clarke (Pres.); J. Shute, (PRO). Back Row: Prof. P. Momo (Faculty); P. Wolls, (Info. Chairman). Missing: Prof. Heintz (Faculty Advisor); M. Horshman (Publicity).

COMTÉAN SOCIETY

Seated: C. Fonning (Vice-Pres.); G. Oaks (Pres.); L. Foster (Sec.).
Standing: I. Rootman (Post Pres.); D. Spence (Faculty).

The Comtéan Society, the Sociology Club on campus, was christened after August Comté, the French social philosopher who gave sociology its name.

During the term, members went on interesting field trips to a mental hospital, Spy Hill Gool and a Hutterite colony. The program also included lectures by various professors on their specialties, and group discussions on: the penal system; group dynamics; the family; social work; and mental work. Several films were integrated into the program.

BIOLOGY CLUB

J. Kenny (Vice-Pres.); L. Brown (Sec.-Treas.); R. Sloon (Pres.).

One of the more important activities of the society this term was the construction of a teaching station at Ribbon Creek early in November. Several seminars were held, complete with various speakers and films. Arrangements were made with the National Audubon Society for a lecture series to begin in October, 1963.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

E. Priestley (Program Chairman); D. Litchinsky (Chairman); H. Bertram (Sec.-Treas.); H. White (Vice-Chairman). Missing: B. Bolton (Project Chairman).

The Chemistry Club was quite active during the 1962-'63 term. Highlights of the year included: a series of glass-blowing demonstrations; a tour of the Imperial Oil Research Lab; continued work on the model of the D.N.A. molecule; a tour of the various projects of the chemistry professors; and the showing of several films in the field of chemistry.

BALLET CLUB

Once again, the Ballet Club was under the very able leadership of Madame Valdo. In recent years, greater recognition has been given to the physical as well as the artistic value of ballet training. Its inclusion in general education is important since it helps develop good posture; promotes an understanding of physical education; gives the student a background in the dances of various different countries; and provides physical and mental benefits greater than those from some of the other forms of physical activity.

Membership in the club was near the twenty mark and after Christmas, the physical education classes took special sessions.

DRAMA SOCIETY

For all interested thespians the year got underway early with the casting of the play, "The Visit". Unfortunately the play was dropped three weeks before production time due to lack of co-operation. However, interested members formed a group which met every Friday evening for the purpose of studying one act coffee house plays and attending foreign films or plays.

Other activities included participation in the Mardi Gras Ball and sponsorship of a Variety Night and Costume Drive.

Madame Valda, Liz Garland,

MUSICAL SOCIETY BOARD

The Musical Society Board was set up to co-ordinate musical activities. It was made up of the presidents of the musical clubs with Dr. Churchly as the faculty advisor.

This year the board arranged a March concert with all groups participating and the Edmantan Male Chorus as special guests. The May taur was also arranged by the board.

Dan Waadworth (Faculty Liaisan); Jayce Saunders (Sec-Treas.); Deane Jensen (Pres.); Gwen Raberts (Vice-Pres.); Gordan Mehling (Publicity Chairman).

STRING QUARTET

Farmed this year under the guidance of Talman Herz, this group performed first at a naan-haur recital. After this appearance they performed at Crescent Heights High Schaal and at Central United Church. The quartet also appeared on the March 16 program and an taur with the Glee Club. The members are Gardan Mehling and Gwen Raberts, violins; Miss Larna Challis, viala; and Jae Hazelzet, cella.

Dec. 18, 1962—Christmas Carolling in the halls of the Arts and Education Building.

Dec. 20, 1962—Performance for the Calgary Gyra Club at the Palliser Hotel.

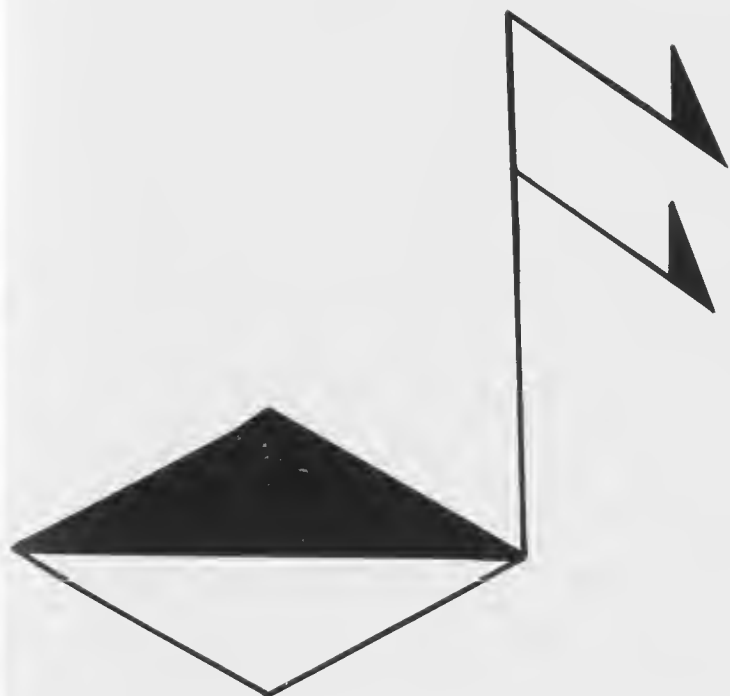

Dec. 16, 1962 and Dec. 23, 1962—Appearance on CHCT-TV, Channel 2, for Christmas programs.

Mar. 15 and 16, 1963—March Concerts in the gymnasium.

May, 1963—Southern Alberta Fair lasting ten days.

CLUB

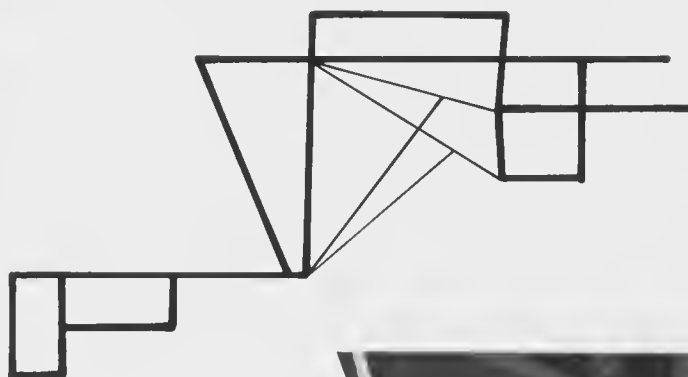

A CAPPELLA SINGERS

The A Cappella Singers were organized early in the 1962-'63 term with Mr. Talmon Herz as director. The group included approximately twenty individuals who were also a part of the larger Glee Club Organization. They were separated from the larger group by their distinctive black gowns. The A Cappella singers met weekly to sing cappella madrigals, church music, and contemporary works. Performances were given at Knox United Church, on tour in May, at a March concert and at a noon-hour recital. President of the club and also assistant conductor was Don Woodworth. Gladys Bladerson was librarian.

Seated: M. Wallace (Sec.); D. Mundy (Pres.); L. Davies (Prayer & Mission Chairman).
 Standing: G. Wind (Social Convenor); E. Burdick (Bible Study Chairman); P. Gaschnitz
 (Publicity); R. May (Treas.).

I.V.C.F.

I.V.C.F. is an interdenominational student organization whose purpose is "to know Christ and to make him known." Throughout the year, I.V.C.F. endeavors to present a comprehensive program of discussion groups, Bible studies, special speaker sessions, prayer meetings, missionary emphasis, and varied social activities.

As an added service to the students, I.V.C.F. operates a second-hand book store for both summer and winter sessions.

CANTERBURY CLUB

L. Mitchell (Pres.); J. Rabinsan (V.P.); Rev. P. R. Judge (Chaplain); B. Fleming (Sec.-Treas.)

The aim of Canterbury is to serve the mission of Christianity in higher education by fostering among students a better understanding of the faith and practise of the Anglican communion and loyalty to its corporate life through a program of worship, study, service and evangelism.

Highlights of the year were the Western Regional Conference and Canon Bryan Green's lectures. Other activities included a Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper, and a Year-end supper and discussion group, the latter being held for Anglican high school students planning to enter university in the fall.

A. Fabris (Treas.); G. Dube (Pres.); T. Michener (V.P.).

The Newman Club is the Catholic Student organization on campus. Its two-fold purpose is both spiritual and social. Communion breakfasts, a visit to the Ukrainian Catholic Church, panel discussions given by the Alumni, parties, and an annual retreat were included in the year's activities.

A big project this year was to start negotiations for a centre near the campus for all Newman Club activities to take place.

This year the club welcomed two new chaplains, Father Fry and Father Bastigal, to assist Father Moran.

NEWMAN CLUB

AMUS

A.M.U.S. was a new club on campus this year and although it was organized primarily for the benefit of Mennonite students, the club was open to all interested persons from any ethnic or religious background.

The general theme for the year was "Biblical Doctrine in the Light of Anabaptism." It provided a basis for such topics as "The Anabaptist Heritage," "Pacifism in the Atomic Age," and "Positive Christian Service in Today's World." A discussion of current problems encountered in academic life formed a part of every meeting.

R. Harder (Pres.); V. Isaac (Sec.); G. Janz (V.P.)

DESERET CLUB

The Deseret Club is a small but energetic club on the university campus. Meetings were held every Monday and Wednesday at 12:30. This year, to promote discussion the members are studying the Book of Mormon. Lively discussions about the contents of this book are common.

Supplementing this more serious side of the organization, were the various activities which were scheduled throughout the year.

Seated: M. Tillack (Historian); L. Papsdorf (Sec.); J. Sabey (Treas.); W. Pilling (Sociol Convenor). Standing: J. Henninger (Instructor); B. Bullock (Pres.); K. Crawford (V.P.).

GAMMA DELTA

Gommo Delto is the International Association of Lutheran College and University Students. The program is sponsored by the Commission on College and University Work of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod. The Greek characters of Gommo Delto represent the words "knowledge" and "service" which are pertinent to the Christian life and practice.

The local Gommo Delto group meets in Bible discussions each week, with special meetings and social periods once every month.

Meeting one night a week, the students receive training in communication, navigation, supply and engineering. Reserves spend four months each summer with the navy. During their first and second years cadets spend three months at Cornwallis and one month at sea. In the past few years they have visited Bermuda, Antigua, Trinidad, Puerto Rico, Newfoundland, England, Ireland, and numerous places in the Atlantic Provinces. Third year cadets receive summer training at the West Coast, Royal Roads Military College.

A LOVE-LETTER

A love note holds the treasures of our world
With warm and ever tender loving touch
Thon love of power, speed or doring feets;
For it remains the royal messenger
From one unique and seporote soul of love
To onother soul of love of equal strength;
Though love-letters ore less o force,
They bring on tears: unhappiness and joy
To only two of seporate worlds alone:
Between them lies o seo or range of peaks
O'er which his letter is the only voice
To speak in silent jogged words and scrowls
To one so foir of beauty chorms, as she
Whose curving choracters, beyond compore
Will clutch his roptured heart with precious core.

Ron W. Kobylnyk

WHAT THING IS SPRING?

The air is chill
The ground is cold ond sodden
The brown grass lies like moistened shredded wheat.

The wind is shrill
The sidewolks muddy-trodden
Stout flowers downed ond moshed by plodding feet.

The puddle's iced
The mud holds—shorp ond hard
White-floked by the breoth ond progeny of night.

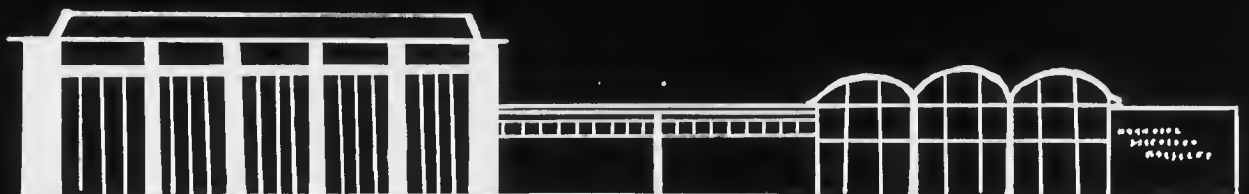

A horn blows twice
Eoch cor moves up o yard
And again the quivering line is drown up tight.

But the sky is blue
The sun is coolly shining
And o plucky robin chirps on o distont pole.
Frost melts to dew
A storting bus is whining
And spring seeps into the winter-wilted soul.

ALONE

I am all alone
in a world
I do not understand.

I stand in a crowd
of happy faces
but they do not see me;
I walk by the shaded brook
but it babbles not.

I am all alone
in a world of love
and love comes not to me;
I sit at the fireside of laughter, but my lips
are robbed of mirth.

I stand in the wetness of a spring rain and the rain carries down
with it my tears;
I cry aloud in the last anxious moments of a storm
but no one hears me.

I turn from the lights
of the city
to the calmness of the country lane
but peace is not what to walk with me.

Am I a
forgotten soul?

RETROGRESSION

Back, ever backward.
Beauty of wings that
Wrinkle and madden
As she crawls backward
Into her pupa.
Dormant she lies there
But only a while
Far when she emerges
Sluggish and stunted
Crawling, contented
She eats of her past
(Or was it her future)
Threaded strand by strand.

XMAS AT UAC

ADELPHE XMAS PARTY

The evening began with games and a lot of fun. Later Miss Lynne Brown led the group in the singing of lovely and tender Christmas Carols. Finally, midst a mood of quiet solitude Mrs. Fish, Advisor to Women Students, read an inspiring Christmas Story to the girls.

PATHWAY TO DESTRUCTION

A pebbled pathway lies deserted,
 Long forsaken by many a weary Traveler
 And now overgrown with weeds.
 Among the stones, if you look closely,
 You can find the remnants of pavement,
 And below the surface,
 The remains of cobblestones.
 The path, when used, leads to naught;
 Or rather, to less than naught.
 The stars, whose ageless memories
 Extend through eons, unforgetting,
 Proclaim the fate of long dead races;
 And comets, on their eonic Outward trips
 Meditate the loss of . . . there! there!
 That one! the blue one that's glowing!
 gone now . . .

The wind, blowing softly, moans disconsolately
 Over the fate of those who once laughed and ran
 And played with it.
 But was it fate?

COFFEE POT

For reading while drinking poetry.

Pause for a breath after every tepid line.

Once upon a coffee pot
There was a little spot.
No matter! it was still pretty good swill.
With water and beans
and the pot still steams
and bubbles and boils
and the cook toils
to produce a juice
that would satisfy
(though kill a fly)
the most meticulous taste.

But then the fate
too late . . . too late
the masters rage,
lights of the stage
shocking, shouting,
banging, clouting,
Oh, for shame.
Nothing's the same
No one wants coffee
they all want tea.
To be, or not to be
with or without tea.

Volleyball season is over and we've all had lots of fun;
We did lose many of our games, but then don't forget the one's we won.
From WCIAA to CIAA we went,
And many an hour was spent
Practicing spikes, and serves and the set,
And our fingers sure hurt, you can bet.

Now let's turn our attention to the gold team,
As Sharon, the coach, gives out with a scream,
"I thought I knew all the punches to this game."
On Monday night at the CIAA, volleyball just wasn't the same.
Come on Hazel, spike that ball,
As Myra sets one high, Elaine jumps and tries not to fall.
So Betty comes up to serve the left handed style,
While Bonnie gets ready to spike the ball a mile.
Wow, look at that overhand service of Lynne's,
As Donna shouts "Hurray" for it's a sure win.
And so the Golds came out all right,
They represented UAC well and always give a good fight.

And now let's see, it's the Reds they're called,
They really have spirit for that game of Volleyball,
So let's peek in at a few of their sessions
To see what we have as prize possessions.
"Get off your feet Kesler" is the cry from the floor,
A set from Koke to Mavis will surely raise that score.
Our golden gloves player Lyn really changed her style,
As Barb tops the ball, a good play, just look at that smile.

VOLLEYBALL

GOLD TEAM

Back: Sharon Phipps (Caach), Donna Macfarlane, Lynne Orman, Betty Ann Raberts.
Frant: Elaine Liebelt, Hazel Scheuchner, Myra Petts (Captain), Bannie Schiffner.

"Came an, Marj, let's raise that scare,"
As Bannie jumps up, "we've won ane mare."
Yes, the Reds made a gaad shaw, We captured the city title.
Next year, watch out, we'll really go.

Let's look at the fun while we're making this rhyme,
With all the hard wark, still we've had a gaad time.
Remember Vancouver, and the pictures we got,
Did yau all see Mavis in her lovely — "Oh I fargat!"
It seems Gold coach Sharan wanted ta ga far a swim,
The limousine stopped sharp, "ga ahead", her face just laaked grim.
But we fargat aur manager sa capable and all,
Diane kept everyane tagether and we all had a ball.

Up ta Edmonton went the Reds and the Galds,
We didn't bring back the traphy but then we didn't want ta seem bald.
The Western Canadian championships, what a time! —
With Cleapatra in her slip everything was just fine.
To tap aff the year we played in the CIAA,
Actually best we close before we fargat what we might say.

Ta each and everyane af yau May I say a big thanks,
Far all yaur time and energy and yaur many harmless pranks.
Ta yau wha are leaving, Gaad luck! Don't fargat UAC,
The rest I hape come back ta play next year and be,
The black harse in every taurnament we play.
Best wishes, Gad speed, Hip-hip-hurray!

WRESTLING

SWASH BUCKLERS

Although the U.A.C. Swash Bucklers is a new group on campus, this year it has proven to be very popular, with thirty or more members meeting each week to fence foil, sabre, and epee. The activities for the year included a style tournament, an intramural tournament, the Intersarsity Tournament in Saskatoon and foil demonstrations during University Week.

The club has been aided by the fencing master, Dan Lasla, by the faculty advisor, Professor Heintz, and by the modern equipment which was supplied by the University.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSN.

The Women's Athletic Association is the organizing and promotion body on campus for intramural and intercollegiate sports activities. The groups planned and carried out the entire intramural program. Among the activities they planned were Volleyball and Basketball, Free throw contests, Badminton and Table Tennis.

To raise money for the U.A.C., the women held a Man Dance early in the spring.

Mrs. Fran Carmack, President, attended the Western University Students' Athletic Committee Conference in Edmonton. The purpose of the conference was to discuss problems concerning the intramural and intercollegiate sports at the Western Universities. Officers were: President—Fran Carmack; Vice President—Trudy VanderValk; Secretary—Nancy Keith; and Treasurer—Phyllis Davis.

Back: Fran Carmack, Diane Kirby, Kiyoko Urano, Sharan Phipps, Mrs. Kueber. Front: Nancy Keith, Trudy Vander Valk, Theresa Sekura, Leila Carlson, Phyllis Davis, Hazel Scheuchner.

Trudy Vander Valk, Bob Midyette, Kathy Kesler, Nestor Kelba, Miss S. Duquette, Chuck Rose, Hazel Scheuchner.

V.A.H.P.E.R.

The V.A.H.P.E.R. Convention, held earlier in the year, with the theme "Outdoor Education Displays from Different Sources" drew a large number of interested students.

The club also helped with the Invitational Collegiate Basketball Tournament at Christmas.

Club money was raised by selling pennants and handling the sale of cokes at the University basketball games. Elections for the coming year were held recently. George Kinnear was elected President for the 1963-64 term. Committees will be set up during the summer so that the V.A.H.P.E.R. association will get a head start in the fall.

Marilyn Grant, 1st year Phys. Ed. major, received the local V.A.H.P.E.R. Scholarship.

A student in Physical Ed.,
Reclines in a hospital bed;
From the parallel bars,
He fell, and saw stars,
Now he's studying
space flight instead.

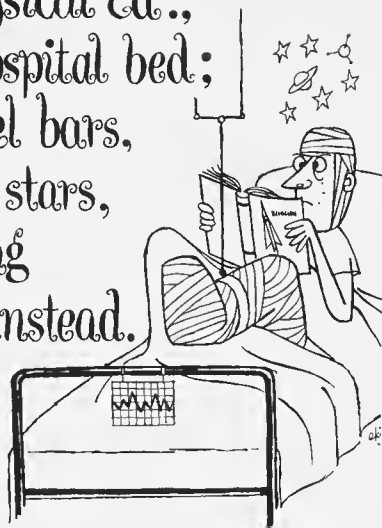

Penny-wise and dollar-wise,
The student who would like to rise,
Will use this saving stratagem—
A bit each week in the B of M!

The Golden Days
that lie behind . . .

take on new meaning at graduation, as you move from the world of studies to the world of action.

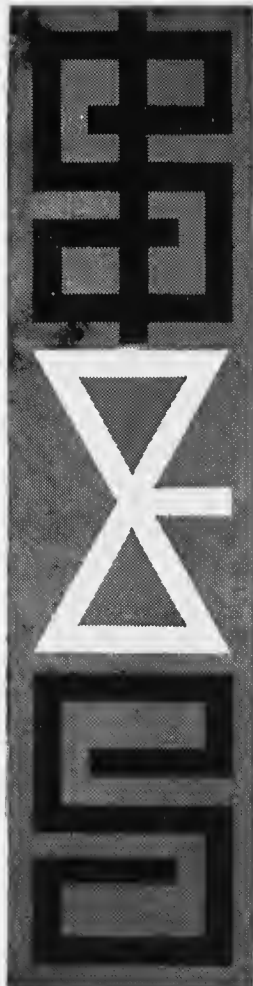

The Golden Days
that lie ahead . . .

promise satisfying achievements to all who continue in the pursuit of excellence, whatever their chosen field.

On this happy occasion we offer our congratulations on your graduation and our best wishes for your future.

GAS

IS MODERN

Modern homemakers choose gas—today's modern fuel—clean and versatile.

Smart homemakers choose gas because it is so fast — so efficient.

Thrifty homemakers choose, gas because gas is Alberta's low-cost fuel — with service you can depend on!
